

Nearly Half of American Jobs Are at Risk of Automation

Machine learning is used to perform many tasks that previously required human workers, such as generating credit reports, operating machinery, recognizing faces, and delivering packages.